

Dicran Arnold

Dicran is simply known as “D” and in 2004 he joined the World Wide Technology, Inc. (WWT) team. Today as the Director, Diversity Business Development, his role is to assist WWT’s account teams by building strategic relationships with companies’ supplier diversity teams, foster partnerships with MBEs and represent WWT at the regional councils of the NMSDC and other organizations that focus on the advancement of minorities in STEM careers.

From 2009 to 2014, he served as an Ad Hoc member to the Western Region Minority Supplier Development Council’s (WRMSDC) Minority Business Enterprise Input Committee and from 2012 to 2014, he served on the Board of Directors of the WRMSDC. In September D, was elected to the Northwest Mountain Minority Supplier Development Council’s Minority Business Enterprise Input Committee.

Before joining WWT, “D” was Director of Procurement for the Innotrac Corporation, a publicly traded- third party logistic company in Duluth, GA, where he and his team brought and maintained inventories on behalf of fortune 1000 customers like BellSouth, PacBell, Porsche and Coca Cola, just to name a few.

D holds a Bachelor’s degree in Business Administration from Ole Miss.